GCSE RESULTS

GCSE results 2019: Thousands more take French after years of decline

HEPI report

More than 300 million people speak French across 29 countries and five continents.

As well as being a working language, French is an official language of the United Nations, the European Union, UNESCO, NATO, the International Olympic Committee, the International Red Cross and international courts.

French is the third most used language in business across the world. According to a study led by the business school INSEAD, French is just behind English and Mandarin in terms of the most powerful languages in the world. Economist Kai Chan explains “French is associated with countries like Belgium, Switzerland, Canada, France, very powerful countries thanks to their culture and GDP”.

Studying a modern language increases your future employability. The skills and rigour involved with studying languages are highly regarded by universities for various courses. Learning French will also enable you to enjoy more books, films and songs in the language which will help to reinforce how much you understand.
